II. READING OF MINUTES:

Minutes from February 4, 2010 accepted as written.

III. PROGRAM:

A. Code Class by Fred:

- Fred shared highlights of IAPMO history the creation of the UPC and, where his life paralleled with certain aspects of the code and adoption dates.
- The 1973 UPC was the first edition adopted in Washington.

Chapter 2 - Reviewed new definitions in both the UPC and the State Amendments:

- Hot Water - Defined as 100 degrees because of day care.
- Bathroom Group – Was defined to go with what is allowed to be included in horizontal wet venting.
- Bathroom Half - Room equipped with only water closet and lav.
- Public or Public Use – Plumbing fixtures that are not defined as private or private use. Public use triggers barrier free requirements.
- Private or Private Use – Applies to residences and apartments, private bathrooms in hotels and hospitals, and where fixtures in commercial establishments intended for use of a family or an individual.

Section 416.3 - Bidets are now required to have a temperature limiting device.

Section 601.1 – Where fixtures are installed for private use, hot and cold water shall be required for bathing, washing, laundry, cooking purposes, dishwashing and maintenance. For public use hot and cold shall be required for bathing and washing.

Section 604.8 – Plastic materials for water service piping outside underground shall have a blue tracer wire, 18AWG and extend above grade at each end.

V. CODE:

1. Alternate Method and Material:
 - When AHJ approves it is good for that jurisdiction only.
 - Does not automatically carryover to other jurisdictions but the can certainly take into consideration.
 - Ultimately, each jurisdiction has the right to either approve or deny.
